How can we offer opportunities for your children to pursue their dreams?

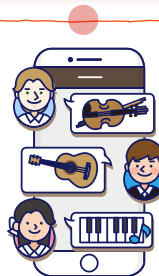

Is there a program
where a child
dreaming of
becoming a designer
can experience the actual life of a designer?

Local governments are implementing programs that assist multicultural students with their academic concerns and career choices. These programs are designed to tap into the potential of your children, helping them decide on their future careers and achieve their goals.

What benefits can mentoring provide?

By participating in the multicultural mentoring program, your child can meet friends with similar backgrounds.

Mentors, who once had similar concerns, can listen to your children's academic concerns and offer solutions for their career choices.

A range of career experiences can help broaden their perspectives when selecting a future profession.
